CHURCH COMMITMENT:

Although we as a church understand that we do not have a responsibility to cover tuition for any student at Tulsa Adventist Academy, we understand that a big part of our mission to our young people is in educating them to become disciples of Christ through a daily focus on Him. For this reason, the church commits to purposefully inviting our congregation to participate in the ministry of Tulsa Adventist Academy and its Student Financial Aid program. This could include, but is not limited to, fundraiser activities, bulletin information regarding need, up-front appeals, focused prayer and attention, and budgeting for worthy student needs.
